6.0 Provision of information

On the TAREA website, it is possible to subscribe to a newsletter and TAREA membership. Personal data is processed depending on the way in which information is provided.

7.0 Other online services

To access other TAREA online services, for example, job offers, tenders or registering for training courses, it is necessary to enter personal data for further processing. The corresponding data privacy policies for the respective service apply.

8.0 Processing of personal data in connection with social network use

On its website, TAREA invites users to visit its association presence on social networking sites and platforms including, but not limited to, Twitter, LinkedIn, YouTube and Facebook.

These online presences are operated in order to interact with the users that are active on these sites and platforms and to inform them about projects and services. By clicking on a social network's logo, the user is redirected to the TAREA presence on the respective network.

When users visit the platforms, personal data is collected, used and stored by the operators of the respective social network, but not by TAREA. This is also the case even if the users themselves do not have an account with the respective social network.

The individual data processing operations and their scope differ depending on the operator of the respective social network. TAREA has no influence on the collection of data or its further use by social network operators. We are not fully aware of the extent to which, where and for how long the data is stored; to what extent the networks comply with existing obligations regarding erasure; what analyses are conducted and links established with the data; and to whom the data is disclosed.

Access to TAREA social media sites is subject to the respective operators' terms of use and privacy policies. More information is available through the links below.

9.0 Disclosure to third parties

TAREA does not pass on personal data to third parties unless it is legally obliged or entitled to do so by law or by the permission of the data owner.

10.0 Transfer of data to countries outside Tanzania

TAREA does not transfer personal data to third countries. When using social media, the privacy policies of the respective providers apply.

11.0 Duration of data retention

User data will not be kept any longer than is necessary for the purpose for which it is processed or as required by law.

12.0 IT security of user data

TAREA accords great importance to protecting personal data. For this reason, technical and organisational security measures ensure that data is protected against accidental and intentional manipulation and unintended erasure as well as unauthorised access. These measures are updated accordingly based on technical developments and adapted continuously in line with the risks.
